DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. Figures 1 and 2 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

2. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

3. The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

4. The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

5. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it exceeds 150 words.

Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

7. Claims 1-4, 7 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Sabounjian (2004/0173611). Sabounjian discloses the limitations of claims including a collapsible hamper (figs. 1-18) comprising twistable frames (22,24), support strips (30), hamper body (fig. 16), opening (54), front (25) and rear (24) sides/pieces/sleeves, left/right/bottom pieces (26), openings (portions of pockets 32 receiving support strips), metal frames (par. 28), plastic support strips (par. 32), cloth (par. 44) and a handle (2).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. Claims 5 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being obvious over Sabounjian. Sabounjian as applied to par. 7 above discloses the limitations of the claims substantially excluding what would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention, forming the hamper body with left, right and bottom pieces being divided into three pieces and forming the hamper body such that it is divided into two pieces extending from the middle of the bottom one to the left side and another to the right side in order to facilitate design choice by altering aesthetics.

Moreover, it has been held that constructing a formerly integral structure in various elements involves only routine skill in the art. Nerwin v. Erlichman, 168 USPO 177, 179.

10. Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sabounjian in view of Kellog et al. (2005/0167428). Sabounjian as applied to par. 7 above discloses the limitations of the claims substantially excluding what Kellog et al. teaches, an elastic band (fig. 67, 66) in order to secure a container in a collapsed state (par. 169). Therefore it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to modify Sabounjian with an elastic band in order to maintain the hamper in a collapsed position.

11. Claim 10 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sabounjian in view of Zheng (7,080,653). Sabounjian as applied to par. 7 above discloses the limitations of the claims substantially excluding what Zheng teaches, dividing layers (fig. 5, 70) thereby providing segregating means. Therefore it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to modify Sabounjian with dividing layers in order to segregate hamper contents.

Conclusion

12. Applicant is duly reminded that a complete response must satisfy the requirements of 37 C.F. R. 1.111, including: "The reply must present arguments pointing out the specific distinctions believed to render the claims, including any newly presented claims, patentable over any applied references. A general allegation that the claims "define a patentable invention" without specifically pointing out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the references does not comply with the requirements of this section. Moreover, "The prompt development of a clear Issue requires that the replies of the applicant meet the objections to and rejections of the claims." Applicant should also specifically point out the support for any amendments made to the disclosure. See MPEP 2163.06 and MPEP 714.02. The "disclosure" includes the claims, the specification and the drawings.
